1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

It is unclear what is meant by the receiver array "substantially corresponds to the node array".

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Christensen et al (6326600) in view of Krishnamoorthy et al (5541914).

Christensen et al teach a plurality of nodes (figure 6, 620) which are in a planar array, each node comprised of plural transmitters and receiver (610 and 630), plural optics (650) and a reflective surface. although he does not teach specifics about the optics providing broadcast signal, Krishnamoorthy et al teach that it is well known to use a fan out operation in order to broadcast to other users in the network simultaneously. It would have been obvious to use a fan out arrangement in the system of Christensen et al as taught by Krishnamoorthy et al if it is desired to broadcast the signal to all of the receiving nodes. It would appear that the receiver array "substantially corresponds to the node array". It appears that the emitters and receivers are coplanar. It appears that the optics are coplanar also.

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Li et al teach a plurality of nodes (figure 1) positioned in a node array with each node comprised of plural transmitters and receivers (figure 4, element 26 and column 5, lines 34-40), a plurality of optics (element 46, column 5, lines 67-column 6, line 1). See figure 4 of Crossland et al which teaches fan out optics.
